excel
without compromise.

Discover Our Prestigious London Office

Nestled in the heart of the city at Portsoken House, 155 – 157 Minories, our London office offers around 300 sq metres of dynamic space. It features hot desks, meeting room facilities for our London-based associates, and a spacious M-Tech demonstration area.

A Deep Dive into Excel

The M-Tech is the perfect space to showcase the breadth and quality of the Excel range of products.

Whether it's our extensive range of copper products or the Enbeam Fibre range, you can see examples of the many different options available on panels, modules, and patch leads on display.

Check out the full range of Environ racks, including the latest Environ DCR rack designed specifically for data centre environments.

Don't miss the CRC pod, which demonstrates the cold aisle containment system from Nubis, fitted with the Enbeam fibre raceway trunking. Compare the range and discover the many features and benefits of the Environ floor-standing racks, including the CR, ER, SR, CL, OR, and the latest DCR rack.

The Excel FTTx Solution

If you're an altnet or installing fibre into multi-dwelling applications, explore our extensive range of FTTx products. These products are feature-packed, easy to install, and readily available.

A Great Place to Meet and Discuss

With a large interactive touch screen, we can host meetings to discuss your requirements and tailor solutions to fit your needs. Surrounded by working examples of our products, we can bring those meetings to life.
